7 Nurses Poisoned

FIGHT FOR LIVES IS SUCCESSFUL

Candy Sent To Hospital Contains Death Poison.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS ACT

Affectionate Note Accompany Package of Fudge.

CHICAGO.—(By United Press.) Seven nurses of the West End Hospital, fought for their lives today, after they had eaten candy containing cyanide poison.

The candy, which was addressed to Miss Rosenfeld, was home-made chocolate fudge. A typewritten card in the box read:

"From a patient who was an ardent admirer, this candy was faithfully made."

Miss Helen Rosenfeld, when she received the box of candy, gathered other nurses about and offered them some.

In addition to Miss Rosenfeld, these others are desperately ill: Teresa Iffe, Alma Dorfmeier, Helen Leslie, Anna Rühle, Daisy Casey and Grace Breakstone.

Analysis of the candy showed it contained enough poison to kill every person in the hospital. Every portion and crumb of the candy contained poison.

Within a few minutes after the girls had eaten the candy, they were writhing in agony and then fell unconscious on the floor. Quick use of stomach pumps, probably saved their lives, it was said, at the hospital.

LIVING COST IS MUCH LOWER

Statistics From 32 Cities Show Conditions In September.

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—Based on statistics for 32 cities, the cost of living in the United States decreased 1.7 per cent from last May to September, and 18.1 per cent from June 1920 to September, according to figures announced today by the bureau of labor statistics.

The decrease from May to September ranged from 0.1 per cent for Portland, Maine to 3.8 per cent for Jacksonville, Fla., with New York showing a decrease of 1.1 per cent, Boston 0.9 per cent, Cincinnati 2.3 per cent, Denver 0.6 per cent, Houston 2.8 per cent, Memphis 1.5 per cent, San Francisco 1.3 per cent and Seattle 2.6 per cent.

The figures showed the cost of living in the country in September to be 77.3 per cent higher than the average for the year 1913. The increases were itemized as follows:

Food 53.1 per cent, clothing 32.1 per cent, housing 60 per cent, fuel and light 80.7 per cent, furniture 124.7 per cent and miscellaneous 107.8 per cent.

ROYAL GREETING

Italy's Man of Destiny Comes To Legion Meet.

NEW YORK.—New York today gave a thunderous welcome to General Armando Diaz, Italy's "Man of Destiny."

Destroyers and seaplanes journeyed down the harbor to greet the Giuseppe Verdi, bringing to these shores the man who commanded the armies of Italy during the world war and who has come to join his American buddies at their legion's convention in Kansas City.

Army and navy might pay their salute with roaring cannon, but New York's little Italy insisted on greeting its hero in its own way. Down to Battery Park tramped the swarthy sons of the boot-shaped peninsula that thrusts its toe in the Mediterranean.

On the tip of Manhattan Island they took their stand, facing the statue of Liberty, to shout their "bravos" when their idol stepped ashore.

FINDING IS MADE

COLUMBUS.—Finding for the recovery of $27,322.32 was made against A. J. Kiner, treasurer of Franklin-co in a report filed by state examiners with State Auditor Tracy today. The finding is for the recovery of fees paid for the collection of delinquent taxes between April 24, 1919 and November 15, 1919.

BUSY ON RAIL STRIKE CRISIS

With a nation-wide rail strike threatened, President Harding is holding daily conferences with government officials dealing with transportation. Here he is shown leaving the offices of the Interstate Commerce Commission after a conference.

10,000,000 AUTOS ARE LISTED

May Be Seized By Government If Strike Holds.

NEW YORK.—(By United Press.)—The nation's fleet of 10,000,000 motor cars is being prepared for mobilization to transport food in event of a general railroad strike.

Unveiling of a tablet commemorating the first communication of Concord Lodge, held August 1811, and dedication of lodge rooms were on the afternoon program.

PEAK IS PASSED

So Says Salvation Army Leader of Unemployment.

COLUMBUS.—(By Associated Press.)—The peak of unemployment has passed, Commander Evangeline Booth, leader of the Salvation Army in the United States, declared on her arrival here today for an address.

Chances do not favor any great suffering in New York and other large cities because of unemployment; that danger apparently has been eliminated, she asserted.

Miss Booth declared it her opinion that agitators and propagandists, working among labor, have been defeated.

The unemployment problem has not been fully solved, she said, "but every one has cooperated, the crisis is met."

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES ON BUYING BY THE STATE

COLUMBUS.—The state department of finance in purchasing state supplies, may make its own rules within certain limitations provided by law, according to an opinion by Attorney General Price.

The opinion was taken to indicate that Attorney General Price does not intend to defend either of the two suits brought to enjoin carrying out of contracts for state coal involving about $500,000, which it was contended, were not let by competitive bidding and were attended by other irregularities.

FAVORS LAW CHANGE

TOLEDO.—Efforts to change the Ohio law on illegitimacy to give added protection to nameless children and their unfortunate mothers will be made at the second state conference on illegitimacy which is holding a one day session here today. This conference is preliminary to the Ohio Welfare Conference, which will open tonight for a three days' session.

GRAND MASONIC LODGE OPENS ANNUAL SESSION

CLEVELAND.—The 112th annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ohio Masons was officially opened here today, yesterday being devoted to registration and committee meetings. John R. Flotron of Dayton, grand master of the lodge, responded to an address of welcome.

The visitors paraded from a downtown hotel to the convention hall, an escort being provided by members of the Service Lodge.

Unveiling of a tablet commemorating the first communication of Concord Lodge, held August 1811, and dedication of lodge rooms were on the afternoon program.

HOG CHOLERA IN OHIO DECLARED INCREASING

COLUMBUS.—Considerable increase in the number of cases of hog cholera in Ohio, has been noted in the last few weeks in the reports to Dr. Leo E. Davis, federal veterinarian. He stated today that recently certain sections in the western part of the state indicated an epidemic.

Highland-co is one of the centers of the epidemic, according to Dr. Davis, while reports of the disease from Lucas, Wood, Marion, and Brown-co have been received.

DOHERTY MAY BE CALLED

TOLEDO.—Henry L. Doherty, head of the Cities Service Company, will probably be called to the witness stand today to testify against Jesse McDowell, Pittsburgh business man, who is charged with using the mails to defraud the Doherty company of a million and a half dollars since he became purchasing agent for the company in 1913.

PEACE CONFERENCE AT CHICAGO WILL ENDEAVOR TO BLOCK RAIL WALKOUT

Brotherhood "War Council" Holds Informal Meeting.

LEADERS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Possibility of Strike Breakers Is Declared Remote.

CLEVELAND.—(By United Press.)—The "war council" of railway brotherhood chiefs met informally here today to discuss plans for the "little peace conference" in Chicago tomorrow.

Preparatory to leaving for that city to confer with members of the railway labor board in a final effort to avert the nation-wide strike, scheduled to begin October 30, the union leaders talked over the situation, with particular reference to the new conditions brought about by the board's eleventh hour move.

Participating in the informal meeting here today, were W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. It was believed that T. C. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America and L. E. Sheppard, president of Order of Railway Conductors might also be present. All were to leave for Chicago before night.

OPTIMISM IS NOTED.

There was a distinct feeling of optimism in union headquarters here before the meeting of the "war council," which, before the labor board's action necessitated a change of program, was to have devoted today solely to arranging final details for the walkout of 2,000,000 railway and allied employees.

"If the president really meant what he said when he declared he was ready for a show down as to whether the railway labor board's orders were to be obeyed, it is a notable advance toward settlement of the whole trouble," Lee said. "The defiance of the board by certain railway executives and the latter's efforts to abrogate working agreements and rules sanctioned by the board, is one of the main issues of the present situation."

In explaining his prompt acceptance of the invitation to the Chicago conference, Lee said:

"I will go wherever there is the remotest possibility of a settlement—I have the welfare of the 150,000 members of my organization and their families to consider."

Stone's attention was directed to the fact that certain railways were planning to employ strike-breakers in the event the strike went thru.

"There are a lot of men walking the streets in search for work, who undoubtedly would be willing to take anything offered them," he said.

VIEW ON STRIKEBREAKERS.

"But railroad demands a degree of experience and skill so great that a strike-breaker cannot play even a minor part."

There was considerable speculation in "neutral" quarters here as to the outcome of the "little peace conference" in Chicago. It was believed that a solution would be worked out which would permit both sides to withdraw from their present positions and claim a moral victory.

This, it was pointed out, may take the form of an agreement by the executives for a nominal reduction in freight rates at once, and acceptance by the brotherhoods of a portion of the new wage cut—the balance deferred indefinitely.

HARDING MAY PROCLAIM PEACE ARMISTICE DAY

WASHINGTON.—(By United Press.)—President Harding may proclaim that the United States is officially at peace with the central powers on Armistice Day, November 11.

Peace between this country and her former enemies was virtually accomplished fact today, however, by the senate's ratification last night of the Harding peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary. The vote was 66 to 20.

The four countries now will formally exchange ratifications after which peace will be officially proclaimed. These steps are expected to require about two or three weeks.

BANDIT ROBS TRAIN

MOOSEJAW, Sask.—A lone bandit today held up the Dominion Express messenger on the Vancouver-Toronto Express between Swift Current and Moosejaw, rifled the safe and dropped from the moving cars. Railway officials are checking up to determine how much loot was obtained.

DAYTON MAN HELD

TOLEDO.—Earl E. Kummer, 25, of Dayton, was held for investigation by federal authorities here today. Detectives believe Kummer operated irregular promotion schemes.

Harding Has Weapons To Fight Strike

WASHINGTON.—(By United Press.)—President Harding has been assured that if a show-down comes in the threatened rail strike, he has weapons powerful enough to prevent any nation-wide paralysis of the transporting systems.

Harding has had his advisors canvassing the possible means of meeting any situation that might threaten.

A high official today outlined to the United Press the weapons in the government's arsenal. He made it clear that neither Harding nor any other responsible official has yet determined upon the use of any of those weapons except the power of public opinion.

The first step is to give both the railroads and the brotherhoods an opportunity to change their attitude. That is the purpose of calling the brotherhoods before the labor board in Chicago Thursday.

If both sides hold to their present positions, the labor board will make public this fact with the express purpose of swinging public opinion into line.

AVAILABLE WEAPONS

After that the showdown between the government and the railroad forces, both capital and labor will be inevitable, officials said. Then the following weapons will be available:

Tying up of the brotherhood's strike funds. This was done by the government in the coal strike.

Criminal proceedings on the ground of a conspiracy to interfere with interstate commerce. This weapon, if invoked, would put brotherhood heads in jail.

Taking over of the railroads under the national defense act. The speakers in the opinion of some government officials might even be "drafted" into service to run the trains.

In dealing with the railroad executives and their refusal to lower their rates, the administration has one weapon, which properly used will be sufficient, officials believe. This is the refunding bill, now pending before the senate.

The United Press informant stated that Harding is determined railroad rates must come down. All the administration leaders in congress agree.

The administration can refuse them the relief to be provided thru the refunding bill, it was pointed out and they will then have a hard time getting money.

BURDEN ON TRUCK

Ohio Ahead of Other States if Rail Strike Comes.

Tieup of the railroads by a strike would throw upon the motor truck fleets of the country the entire burden of supplying the needs of the cities, except such small help as may be given by the freight departments of interurban electric lines.

Inability of these truck fleets to adequately cope with the emergency is shown by the fact that only 900,000 motor trucks were registered in the country in 1920 while railroad freight cars that will be forced into idleness total approximately 2,500,000.

New York state leads by far all the others in number of commercial motor trucks, with Ohio, Illinois and Massachusetts following in order named. This is the number of motor trucks registered in each state in 1920:

PRINCE IN WRECK.

LONDON.—(By United Press.)—The Prince of Wales, with his brother, Prince Henry, was in a motor car Saturday and had a narrow escape. It was announced today that the information was withheld in accordance with royal custom. The princes were motoring near Cambridge when their car collided with a motorcar.

Proposals To Be Offered Unions Will Be Drafted.

BACKING OF U.S. GIVEN BOARD

Demands For Freight Rate Cut Plays Big Part.

Pressure for peace in the threatened railroad strike was brought on the railroad unions and executives today.

Government agencies at Chicago and Washington made it plain that they were ready to go the limit to keep the roads running.

In Chicago mediation efforts were being handled by the railroad labor board which met on the call of the three members of the public group, who just returned from conferences with President Harding at Washington.

If the Chicago efforts fail, Washington officials have under consideration measures to be taken against both the unions and railroad heads. The determination that the strike must be halted, was expressed in messages from a number of governors to the United Press.

Before leaving for Chicago to meet the labor board, officials of the engineering, trainmen, enginemen and firemen met in Cleveland to discuss strike plans.

CHICAGO.—(By United Press.)—The United States rail labor board—now peace-makers with a club—planned a truce between employees and executives today.

Three board members representing the railroads and the three representing the rail employees, who are prepared to strike October 30 met with the three public members to whip peace proposals into shape.

Chairman R. M. Bacon, Secretary G. W. W. Hanger and Don Hooper, the public group, who just returned from Washington, carried the message of President Harding to other members.

Out of today's executive session of the board will come the complete proposition that the board has to offer the chiefs of the four big unions and the switchmen's union who were summoned here for a conference Thursday afternoon.

BOARD GIVEN BACKING

The government's plan let it be known that the railroad board will be backed to the hilt and that means to enforce its mediation decisions will be found.

If necessary, one board member pointed out, the administration could rush thru an amendment to the transportation act, putting "teeth" in it. The act now depends upon the force of public opinion to enforce its decisions.

It was understood today from reliable sources the demand that will be made of the men by the board are immediate suspension of the strike order and requests to leaders of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor and other unions to hold up strike decisions. The brotherhoods will be asked to use their influence in swinging the other unions to this point of view.

Demands to be made upon the roads in hopes of bringing about a truce, are immediately translation of the 12 per cent wage cut of last July, saving of $100,000,000 for the roads into reduced freight and withdrawal by the executives for a definite period, the demand that workers wages be cut an additional ten per cent. This demand precipitated the present strike crisis.

LASTING PEACE PLANNED

Then, it was pointed out, if both sides agree to these proposals plans will be made to draw up lasting peace proposals.

The board today had not yet decided to call in the executives at the same time the brotherhood chiefs meet tomorrow.

It was believed separate conferences with each side will be held before there is a general round-table discussion.

As the board went into executive session today, Bert M. Jewell, president of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor and the executive committee representing the 31 unions belonging to the organization met to discuss calling a strike.

No immediate strike call will come out of the meeting which was called sometime ago, it was authoritatively stated.

Railroad executives were mum today on the proposed request of the railway board that they hold up their demand for ten per cent cut in pay and put into effect immediately a freight reduction commensurate with the wage cut of July.

AMBASSADOR HERRICK'S PARIS HOME WRECKED BY BOMB

OFFICIAL IS NOT INJURED

Arrives Two Minutes After Internal Machine Explodes.

RESULT OF RADICAL WORK

Paris Police Searching For Sender of Explosive.

BULLETIN

PARIS. — (By the Associated Press.) — A bomb exploded Wednesday in the house of Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador, seriously injuring the valet who opened the package containing it.

The room in which the explosion occurred was wrecked.

Ambassador Herrick arrived at the house two minutes after the bomb blew up.

The receipt of the bomb followed three enting letters which have been coming to the ambassador in the last few days in connection with the case of two Italians recently convicted of murder in Massachusetts.

BOMB APPEARS AS GIFT

The bomb was contained in a carefully made package, addressed personally to the ambassador who, it appears, might well have opened it himself, as it seemed to be a gift designed for him.

The ambassador's valet, however, happened to see the package and opened it to save Mr. Herrick the trouble.

It was during the afternoon that the package was delivered. Immediately after the explosion Ambassador Herrick went to the Hotel Carlton, where General Pershing is stopping. The prefect of police joined the general and the ambassador there and this evening they were conferring on the case.

While the Paris detective service of Paris was at work in an attempt to trace the origin of the bomb.

Considerable damage was done to the ambassador's residence, outside the room where the explosion occurred as well as within it.

EUROPE IS NOW ON UPGRADE

Comes With Signing of New French-German Pact

PARIS. (By NEA Service.) — The turn for the better has come in Europe.

France and Germany will trade with each other and cooperate their joint industries to put Europe back on its financial and economic feet.

That is how continental bankers and diplomats interpret the indemnity agreement signed at Weissenhof by Louis Loucheur, French minister of liberated regions, and Dr. Walter Rathenau, German minister of reconstruction.

By this agreement, which diplomats expect will be officially ratified by the French and German governments, Germany will deliver to France, for rebuilding the war-devastated regions, about $1,500,000,000 worth of building materials, machinery, etc., by May 1, 1923.

"Continental bankers say that signing of the Loucheur-Rathenau agreement means that France has been won over to Germany's claim that Germany cannot pay the full indemnity in gold, but that she can and is willing to pay in commodities."

Other developments that soon may follow are:

ONE: Germany may be granted a reparations moratorium. That is suspension of indemnity payments until she "catches her breath."

TWO: Germany, with the allies' sanction, soon may float an international loan of 2,000,000,000 to 6,000,000,000 gold marks, same to be paid to the allies on the indemnity account.

THREE: France and Germany may pool their leading industries for export purposes, thru officially sanctioned private companies.

LIMA KIWANIS BREAK RECORD

Secure 50 Members in 15 Minutes For Club at Celina.

Fifty new members in 15 minutes and the granting of a charter, is the record established by members of the Lima Kiwanis club, 45 strong, at Celina Tuesday night.

Headed by Walter Jackson, president of local Kiwanis and who is also the First Lieutenant Governor of this district, the Lima delegation rumbled into Celina aboard a special car on the Western Ohio. The celebrated drum and burlesque corps made the walking ring as the boosters dined and danced in the hotel. A bar-becue dinner and the meeting following were held at the Merchants' Extension club.

President Jackson gave an address on what the Kiwanis club stood for. He was followed on the program by Mayor Burkhardt in one of his impersonations, and by Dwight Matchette, Wapa-oneta. Several members of the Celina Business Men's association attended on the program.

Deputy Organizer C. L. Tanager, Jr., followed with details of the organization and membership blanks were distributed. Within 15 minutes 50 new memberships sufficient to secure a charter were obtained.

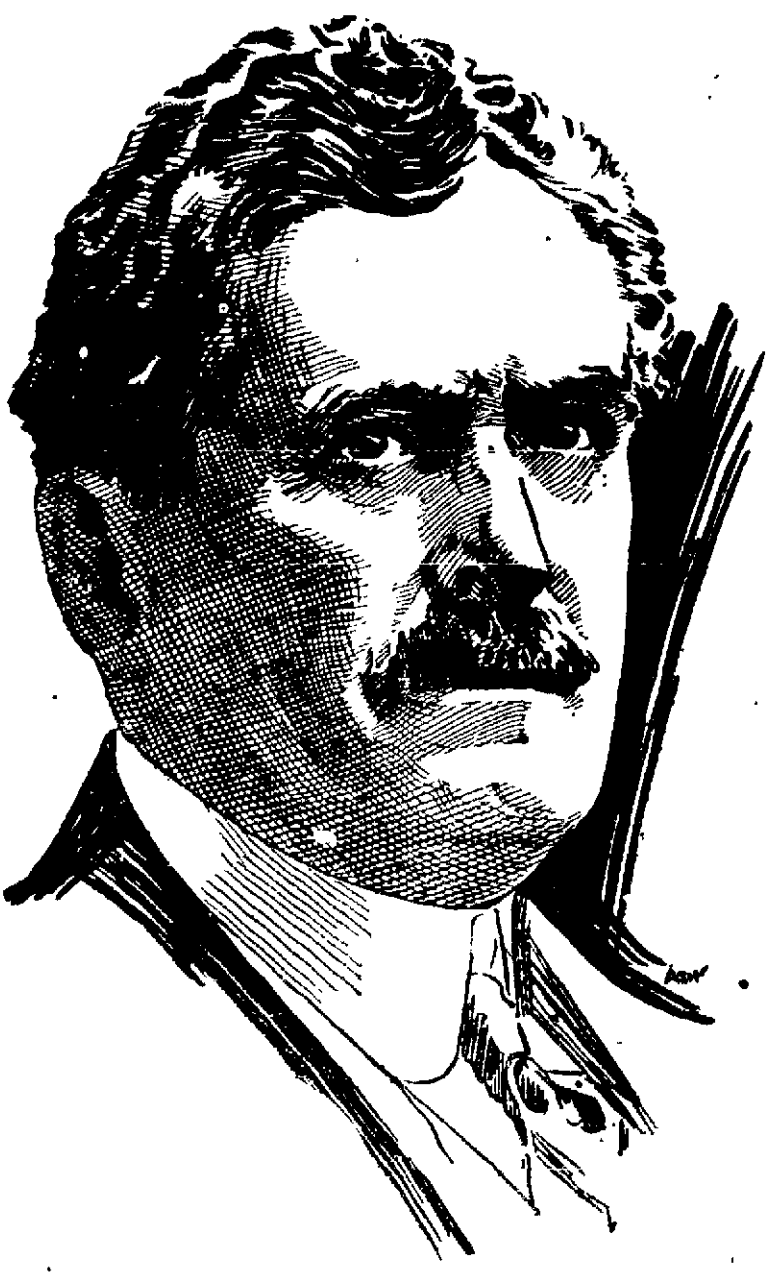

A similar delegation will journey Ottawa Thursday night.

Organizer Tanager has been working in the Putnam-Celina for two weeks and local Kiwanis anticipated results equal to those obtained in Celina.

Extension work in this district is in charge of E. A. Siferd.

Mont Blanc, the highest mountain in Europe, is 15,872 feet high.

HARDING PLEDGES FRIENDSHIP

Declares England and America Will Never Be At War.

TRUSTEES OF CIVILIZATION

Expresses Views at Celebration of British Surrender.

YORKTOWN, Va. — (By Associated Press.) — A doctrine of enduring friendship between the United States and Great Britain was pronounced by President Harding today at a ceremony commemorating the final surrender of the British expeditionary forces here to the Revolutionary army of Washington.

Surrounded by high officials of his administration, and standing within sight of the spot where Cornwallis laid down his sword in 1781, the president declared in deliberately chosen words, a sentiment of peace, relationship between the two great English-speaking nations for all time to come. That either should ever again lift the sword against the other, he said, must be "unthinkable."

TRUSTEES OF CIVILIZATION

"In the trusteeship of preserving civilization," he continued, "we were man, ally, and together, and the convictions of a civilization worthy of that costly preservation will exalt peace and warn against conflict for all time to come."

Four members of the cabinet, including the secretary of state, were in the company of officials who heard the pronouncement and participated in the anniversary demonstration.

Other distinguished guests included prominent members of the diplomatic corps at Washington.

In the course of his prepared address, the president also took occasion to renew the nation's pledge of participation in the broader affairs of the world and declared his belief that the time had come for "essential co-operation" among nations generally for the benefit of the world.

WORLD SOVEREIGNTY IMPOSED

"One need not picture a world sovereignty, ruling over all the varied races, traditions and national cultures, because it will never be. No program which seeks to submerge nationality will succeed. This republic will never surrender so priceless a heritage, will never desert the soul which impelled our grateful attachment to the sober introspection, retrospection and introspection of these crucial times we do believe there is sanity and urgent need in bringing the best thought of all great peoples into understanding and cooperative endeavor which shuns the alliances in arms and strengthens the concord of peace, so that each may realize its rightful destiny and contribute its utmost to human advancement and attending human happiness."

Mr. Harding's address, the feature of the day's program, was delivered at the foot of the Yorktown monument, erected in 1881. And its conclusion he proceeded to Williamburg to participate in the installation of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler as president of the College of William and Mary.

From Williamsburg President Harding plans to go to Jamestown, the site of the original white settlement on the North American continent. The Mayflower will await the party there, probably casting off for the return to Washington this evening.

TRAPPED BY EXPLOSION

YOUNGSTOWN.—Fire following a mysterious explosion in a tailor shop here early today caused damage estimated at $20,000 and trapped members of a family in an upstairs apartment. All were rescued with difficulty. Matt Patton, state arson investigator is conducting an inquiry.

WEATHERMAN'S DOPE IS UPSET

The weather slapper slipped another notch Wednesday in the opinion of those who have been planning their faith to his advance offerings.

A forecast of generally fair day when rain clouds spilled their molts, again unexpected.

Unrelieved and rain clouds accordingly came back into fashion.

Thursday is to be still colder and continued cloudy, with rains near the lake. And we'll probably come in on the edge of the moist belt.

DOCTORS OPPOSE STATE PLAN

150 Physicians Against Public Paid District Medica.

Medical men of Lima district, embracing eight counties, went on record, as a unit, here Tuesday night in opposing a state medical aid plan, which will soon be introduced and voted upon in Ohio.

The occasion was the annual district meeting, held at the Elks' home. The speaker was Dr. J. H. Upham, professor of medicine in the college of medicine of Ohio State university, Columbus.

Dr. Upham declared that where state medical aid prevailed, employers and workers alike contributed to a state fund. The city and county would be divided into districts, whereby one doctor would be assigned to that territory. He would make free calls, but might take his own time in so doing. Patients would be entirely at his mercy in waiting and in care.

Other physicians would only be called as individuals desired them. State medicine would be for the entire district. Employees would not only be compelled to pay to the state medicine fund, but in need of a physician suddenly or for any special reason, pay again for the services of another doctor, aside from the state or district physician.

Dr. Upham addressed the physicians on "Routine Physical Diagnosis." He urged a painstaking examination and a careful diagnosis, preparatory to making the patient understand his case as the physician does.

Ninety-three doctors enjoyed the banquet, served at the Elks' home at six o'clock and 150 attended the evening session. Dr. Charles H. Clarke, president of the Allen County Medical society, was in charge. Dr. J. R. Tillotson is secretary.

"REPEATERS" APPEAR FOR CITY EMPLOYMENT

C. P. Zeitman, superintendent of streets, placed a crew of men at work resurfacing the N. Main-st intersection Wednesday morning.

The crossing on both sides of Main street will be resurfaced and repaired, Zeitman stated.

Between 25 and 30 men are being sent to the street superintendent daily by the Outdoor Relief committee, Zeitman declared. These men, who receive food supplies instead of money from the city, work on an average of three days each. A number of "repeaters" has appeared, according to Zeitman.

BOWYER FUNERAL

Funeral services of Mrs. Malinda Ann Bower, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Thompson, 624 W. Vine-st, Tuesday afternoon, will be held Friday at 10 a. m., at Cherry Grove church, near South Warsaw. The Rev. G. R. Nell, Lima, will officiate. Interment at Waynesfield.

STATE HOSPITAL NEAR CAPACITY

Has Accommodation For Only 50 More Prisoners.

DR. CHAS. CLARK IS PUZZLED

Recommendations Made by Former Official.

That no wholesale transfer of prisoners can be made from the state penitentiary to Lima state hospital, as recommended, was announced by Dr. Charles Clark, superintendent, Wednesday.

E. C. Shaw, Akron, chairman of the former board of administration, recommended to Governor Harry Davis that all insane prisoners be committed to Lima state hospital.

"It seems to me that we have been getting all criminals who are found insane," stated Dr. Clark. "Two to three are coming here each week."

Commenting further on the recommendations made by Shaw, for the abolition of the idle house at the state penitentiary, Dr. Clark was of the opinion that because the men were not working, it does not follow they are insane.

NEAR TO CAPACITY NOW

At the rate the local institution is receiving patients, Dr. Clark announced, it will be filled to capacity by January 1. The buildings were constructed to quarter 1,900 persons. There are now about 950 patients housed in the hospital.

The report being studied by Governor Davis, urges a complete change in methods of caring for 25,000 persons in state institutions.

It is asserted that the state is merely housing its dependents and making little effort to better their physical and mental condition.

Unless an effective policy is adopted, the report says that no end can be seen to the demands of the treasury to provide facilities for protecting Ohio citizens from the depredations of an increasing horde of criminal delinquents and degenerates.

SUGGESTION MADE

Some of the recommendations made are:

Enlargement of the Orient farm to care for 2,000. Abolition of the idle house, commitment of all insane prisoners to the Lima hospital, provisions for work for all physically able, formulation of plans to determine mental deficiencies and diseases of prisoners.

Appointment of a commission to study penal problems prior to construction of a new prison. Another to study the care of the blind and a third to determine whether the state should purchase Longview Hospital, Cincinnati, and on what terms.

An additional hospital for insane should be established, the report urges. The location suggested is the northeastern part of the state.

BROTHERHOOD BANK BIG SUCCESS

DEPOSITS REACH $10,000,000

President Says Big Dividend Will Be Paid First Year.

CLEVELAND. — (By N. E. A. Service.) — Most of the 89,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have healthy savings accounts in the brotherhood's own co-operative national bank that was organized here in November, 1920.

The primary purpose of the bank was to care for the funds of the organization and to handle the money of widows and orphans of dead brotherhood members.

Original deposits were $651,000. Today the institution has drawn in deposits, from coast to coast, more than $10,000,000 and is gaining at the rate of $1,000,000 a month.

The president of the bank is Warren S. Stone, who also is chief of the brotherhood and who once ran a locomotive on a single track division of the Rock Island.

"We'll pay at least six per cent dividend on stock in the first year of our existence," says Stone. He's now creating savings clubs among the 875 local lodges of the brotherhood.

The brotherhood bank is now located in an unpretentious building, formerly occupied by a saloon. The main banking counter once served as a bar.

But the brotherhood owns sufficient land adjoining to accommodate a 21-story bank building, for which plans already have been drawn, and which is to be built within two years.

TRY AGAIN TO AID UNEMPLOYED

Conference of Council and Civic Bodies to be Called.

A conference with heads of civic organizations and city council will be called in the immediate future in another attempt to devise a way to raise funds to aid the unemployed of Lima, it was announced by Mayor Burkhardt, Wednesday.

Councilman Earl Rohu presented a plan to members of council during recess of that body Monday night whereby a relief plan may be adopted along lines of popular subscription.

"My plan would be for men able to do so, to subscribe to a monthly fund, according to their ability, this fund to be turned over to the Outdoor Relief department. Men could then be put to work by the city as at present and would draw their remuneration in food and supplies. The only difference in this plan would be the raising of funds, which would necessarily be afforded by Lima's business men and others in position to give a stipulated amount each month," Councilman Rohu said.

Mayor Burkhardt declared he would call a meeting of heads of civic organizations and council at an early date.

SLAYER OF CHILD SHOOTS OFFICER

Negro Guarded to Prevent Violence From Enraged Town.

ADMITS KILLING YOUNG GIRL

Roamed Two Countries Before Returning to Scene.

VINELAND, N. J. — (By Associated Press.) — Louis Lively, the negro accused of killing a little girl at East Morestown, N. J., last spring, was arrested here early today after shooting a policeman. According to the police he confessed to killing the child. A small crowd surrounded the jail after his arrest became known, but every precaution was taken to guard the prisoner.

Lively is charged with killing seven year old Matilda Russo, mutilating her body and burying it in the cellar of his home in East Morestown.

The child's body was found a week after she had disappeared. Lively vanished the day before the discovery of the murder, and a wide search for him was conducted by the police.

In his confession, the police said, Lively told them he had roamed thru New England and Canada since he left East Morestown in June. He returned to Bridgetown, N. J., and last night walked to Vineland, reaching here at six o'clock this morning.

SHOOTS POLICEMAN

A policeman, Asa Wilson, recognized the negro as Lively, and he and Officer James J. Florentina commandeered a passing automobile and caught up to the suspect. As Wilson stepped from the machine Lively drew a pistol and shot him. He broke into a run toward the outskirts of town. Florentina borrowed a shotgun from a family nearby and followed the negro to a clump of bushes, where the prisoner surrendered.

Policeman Wilson is believed to be fatally wounded. He was shot in the right lung. A crowd quickly gathered at the town jail and threats of lynching were heard. The chief of police summoned assistance and every precaution was taken to safeguard the prisoner. He will be removed either to the Burlington county jail at Mount Holly or temporarily lodged in state prison at Trenton.

FOUR BEING HELD IN KIDNAPING

Girl Says She Was Carried Away By Barber.

AKRON. — (By United Press.) — Four persons were being held by police today in connection with the alleged kidnapping of Miss India Toomey, of Alliance.

Jacob Mann, 32, barber and Mike Todor, were listed at the police station on charges of suspicion.

Todor admitted, police said, that he drove a taxi carrying Mann and four others to Alliance and brought Miss Toomey back to Akron.

A man and woman said to have been in the party are detained by police, but were not registered.

All four say the girl was forcibly taken from her home in Alliance. They were to be taken to Alliance this afternoon.

Miss Toomey was at her home in Alliance today under the care of a physician.

Miss Toomey who is 19 years old, today told the story of her alleged abduction.

"I was in the basement washing some clothes when I heard a noise upstairs," she said. "I went up to my room, there Jack Mann grabbed me and threw a coat over my head."

"He put a bottle to my nose and I became unconscious. When I came to my clothing had been changed. Instead of the wrapper I had on when Mann seized me, I was wearing a street dress. I was taken to Akron in an automobile and into a room where there was a man and a woman. There, Mann said to me: 'I've got you now and I am going to marry you.'"

"Iann left the house and a short time later I heard that he was arrested."

"Mann denied that he used force in taking the girl to Akron."

His arraignment has been delayed until Miss Toomey has sufficiently recovered to appear against him.

PENS OWN DEATH SERMON

Wealthy Iowan Digs Grave and Erects Monument.

WATERLOO, Ia.—(By NEA Service)—At the age of 86 William T. Whitney, wealthy retired farmer and one of the few remaining survivors of Iowa's pioneer days, looks back on life as a disappointment. He welcomes death, and has made all his preparations for it, even to the writing of his own funeral sermon.

A tombstone already has been cut with Whitney's name and the date of his birth—1836. A grave has been dug, cemented up with solid concrete sides and a bottom to a thickness of eight inches. A mason is under contract to construct a cover six inches thick and to face the grave with two layers of brick after Whitney is buried.

"I'll be placed in that hole, to sleep," says Whitney, "and I want to be assured that my rest will be unbroken."

FRIEND OF TWAIN

Whitney, for many years a close friend of Alexander Graham Bell and Mark Twain, says he is an unbeliever.

No minister will officiate when Whitney is buried. The funeral document that he himself has written will be read by a personal friend.

"If I write what I believe, I shall not please my friends," reads this strange message. "If I write to please my friends, I shall be false to myself. So, without wishing to be odd, it seems best to die and be buried in silence."

"I have no disposition to criticize others. They have as good a right to their opinions as I have to mine. Only ignorance is arbitrary. Humanity is my religion. I know nothing beyond the skies. I leave the dead where nature leaves them. We cannot say whether death is a wall or a door, the beginning or end of a day. If there is a world of joy, so much the better."

"Love is the only bow on life's dark clouds. Without it we are less than beasts—with it earth is heaven and we are gods."

LIVED WITH INDIANS

Whitney, after family sorrows in his early life, spent years living with a tribe of western Indians, later coming all over the west, in Panama and Mexico, and finally returned to Waterloo to die.

"Life is a disappointment. I consider it a misfortune to have been born," he says. "I am waiting to welcome death. But death mocks me and seems to laugh and to say 'I am in so hurry for you!'"

U. S. SOLDIERS ALL OVER MAP

Widely Scattered as Disarmament Meeting Approaches.

WASHINGTON—By NEA Service—When the conference on limitation of armaments takes up the question of size of army and navy and location of units, it will find the American military and naval forces are scattered more widely than those of any other nation, save Great Britain.

More than 29,000 American fighters are sprinkled over the map all the way from Peking, China, to Coblenz, Germany, with some here and there in South and Central America.

The army leads other branches in number of men assigned abroad with a total of 15,920, or roughly 13 per cent of the whole army. The total enlisted personnel now is 149,500.

Of these 12,885 are in the American zone of occupation on the Rhine. Peking comes second with 1193. At Porto Rico 1112 army men are stationed.

Number of navy men in foreign waters continually is shifting as the battleships to which they are assigned move about. No navy men are now on permanent shore duty abroad.

The Asiatic fleet cruising in the Pacific now has 5661 enlisted men and the European fleet has 2663. That makes a total of 8329.

YARDMEN ORDERED NOT TO STRIKE

National Head Tells Men To Remain at Posts.

COLUMBUS, — (By Associated Press.) — National headquarters

here of the Railroad Yardmasters' Association of America, with a membership of more than 3,000 throughout the country, today sent out notices to its members to remain at work performing their usual duties in the event of a railroad workers' strike.

The notices were sent out following the receipt of telegraphic orders from the president of the organization, J. L. Coxe, of New York. Many of the members of the organization also are members of the big five brotherhoods, altho the yardmasters are not affiliated with any of the large unions or the American Federation of Labor.

No general strike vote was taken, officials holding that the constitution made a strike vote unnecessary. However, approximately 2,500 yardmasters in the vicinity of New York did take a strike vote, which resulted in favor of remaining at work in the event of a general strike.

DAY OF FAITH TO BE OBSERVED

Movement to Center Minds on Disarmament Meeting.

"MY NEIGHBOR IS PERFECT"

Slogan Adopted to Make All Less Self-Centered.

The observance of a National Day of Faith is proposed as a prelude to the meeting on Armistice Day of the disarmament conference at Washington. The slogan for this day would be "My Neighbor is perfect."

At high noon, Nov. 1 every citizen of Arkansas, if he follow the proclamation of Governor Thomas McRae, will pause for one minute and repeat this sentence, "My Neighbor is perfect."

This plan for making everyone less self-centered and selfish, more thoughtful and respectful of the other fellow, was suggested to Governor McRae by reading the new novel by Arthur Somers Roche, "The Day of Faith." Says the governor's proclamation:

"I do declare Nov. 1 as a legal holiday, to be known as 'The Day of Faith'; and, mindful of the tragic possibilities of the future, I do enjoin all good citizens on that day to offer prayer for the success of the disarmament conference; to acknowledge the rights and virtues of their neighbor, whatever be his nation, his race, or his creed; and as evidence of that faith which is within them, at the hour of noon on such day of Faith, reverently to speak the allegorical words, 'My Neighbor is Perfect, hoping, without self-righteousness, that where Arkansas dares to lead, the world may not fear to follow.'"

The Lima News endorses Governor McRae's idea. It urges Governor Davis to follow his example. In no better way could the minds of the people be centered on the great work ahead—the deliberations and decisions of the disarmament conference, so vital to civilization and to each and all of us.

Read what Arthur Somers Roche, newspaperman and author, who conceived this idea and dedicated his greatest novel to it, has to say on this subject in an article written especially for The Lima News.

(By ARTHUR SOMERS ROCHE)
Author of "The Day of Faith"

DARREN, Conn. — Governor Thomas McRae, in declaring legal holidays in Arkansas to be known as "The Day of Faith," has rendered articulate the wish of mankind.

For nineteen centuries the founder of Christianity has been revered in preachment, but disdained in practice. Governments have done honor in his name, but carefully avoided emulation of his deeds.

Yet there is abroad in the world a new spirit, a spirit that sees the great teacher not as a dreamer, but as an extremely practical man who laid down not merely laws for spiritual guidance but for daily living in the family, the nation and the world.

Practical considerations have ruled the world for thousands of years and the man who preaches that people are innately fine of soul is scorned as a visionary and we are advised to avoid him lest we wreck ourselves upon the rocks of material disaster.

Yet the so-called practical men who have ruled the world and thereby have made a pretty mess of things.

Ten million of dead and ten millions of crippled and millions more of starving women and children pay tribute to their practicality.

A world crushed by the twin burdens of despair and fear is asking to what dread mass practicality has led it. From this wilfully blind leadership the world is crying in sick dismay. It has worshipped at the obscene shrine of practicality too long and now it must inevitably turn to that thing which it has so long disdained—the heart of man!

It is not enough to pray that disaster may not overcome us. We must at length cease to be quarrelsome children in a world of infants and stand forth as adults in a world grown mature.

Governor McRae by his splendid action has challenged the world to view its belief in the doctrines given us nineteen centuries ago.

Can the world in this moment of social industrial and international chaos afford to ignore that challenge? Can the governors of other states fail to understand that Governor McRae has pointed out the only possible way of escape from the perils that beset us?

Can the national government or the world ignore him?

Or do they prefer us still to worship at the feet of the locherous god of practicality to whom we have just paid the bloodiest tribute in history? Shall we let McRae lead us to the light or do we prefer darkness?

Do we dare try Christianity for one minute?

BABE AN OUTLAW?

King of Swat May Be Barred From Leagues.

NEW YORK.—Baseball magnates today say a permanent traveling Bambino—an "outlawed" Babe Ruth cast out of organized baseball and touring the United States next season with a team of his own.

Judge Landis, monarch of baseball, is considering expelling Ruth from the major leagues for at least a season because he is playing exhibition games.

The Babe, it was believed here, will organize an outlaw team or even an outlaw league set up against the majors and barnstorm the country. If he is expelled this would pay Ruth more than if he continued under a salary with the Yankees.

TAKEN FOR THEFT OF CHICKENS

One Sentenced to Works, Another is Juvenile Case.

Lawrence Bobson, 18, colored, of 1518 W. Elm-st., pleaded guilty before Judge Emmett J. Jackson, in Criminal court Wednesday to a charge of stealing poultry. He was sentenced to serve 30 days in Toledo workhouse and pay a $25 fine. The youth served time before on a meat-stealing charge, police say.

Everett Harper, 1600 W. Springfield, arrested in company with Bobson, was turned over to juvenile officers. The lad is only 15 years of age.

It was disclosed at the trial that the youths were captured after chickens they were carrying away from the home of O. C. Sellers, 410 S. McDonnell-st., started to squawk. The sound was heard by Lee Robinson, watchman at the Garford plant. He called the police. Plainclothesmen Landfair and Glover went to the scene and arrested the two colored boys.

They admitted stealing 15 chickens and a rabbit. Ten of the fowls were identified by Grant Miller, 114 S. Metcalf-st. and the remainder by Sellers. The rabbit was stolen from Griffith Thomas, 744 S. West-st.

On October 5 the boys are said to have admitted stealing about a dozen chickens from Charles Warner, 411 S. Collett-st. The poultry was sold to local dealers.

WAR STARTED ON COAL COUGERS

Senator Kenyon Introduces Bills To Protect Consumers.

WASHINGTON.—(Special)—Senator Kenyon of Iowa, chairman of the Senate committee which investigated conditions in the West Virginia fields, has introduced two bills calculated to give relief to the coal consumer.

The first bill is aimed at prohibiting coal. It defines specifically what is profiteering and limits the margin of profit.

The second bill would give the Federal Trade Commission authority to examine reports throwing the spotlight on the coal business from mine to home and factory. The full co-operation of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Geological Survey would be required.

The first bill would place profits on a reasonable basis. The second bill would do away with the "mystery" surrounding the production of coal.

Through enactment of the two measures the Congress would recognize that coal is a national necessity subject to regulation just as are the railroads.

Senator Kenyon expects considerable opposition. Before Congress takes any action on the coal bills a favorable report must come from the Senate minority committee. This committee includes Kenyon, La Follette, McNary, Fernald, McKinley, Nicholson and Weller, Republicans, and Smith of South Carolina, Pomeroy, Jones of New Mexico, and Reed, Democrats.

COURT ORDERS AUDITOR TO CERTIFY FUNDS IN BUCYRUS ROAD PROGRAM

Judge F. C. Becker, in a decree handed down late Tuesday, ruled that C. R. Phillips, auditor, must certify to the county commissioners the amount of money required, according to the contract for the construction of the Bucyrus road thru West Cairo.

The contract, for the road had been awarded by county commissioners to the John G. Tait company, including Tait, Walter J. Neldhart and Michael O'Brien.

Phillips, as auditor, declared there was not sufficient money in the fund to cover amount of contract. Tait sought an order, compelling Phillips to certify the amount contained in the fund to commissioners.

Judge F. C. Becker decided the certification was within the province of Phillips, money for the work done by the Tait company can now be paid.

FISHERMAN FINDS HE IS RICH

Discovered By Mother, Man Gets Million Dollars.

HAVANA, Cuba.—(By N. E. A. Service).—A fisherman for seven years, without knowing his surname and believing his parents dead, Marcelino Dumont is today a millionaire.

And his mother, who found him at Ponta Alegre, after a search almost around the world, says she is the happiest woman on earth.

The story of Mrs. Dumont's frantic search for Marcelino and his sister, Maria, now heirs to a large fortune, came to light today. Mrs. Dumont is a naturalized American, born in Syria.

Years ago when the children were little, they were lost from their home in the United States.

Seven years ago they separated. Maria going to South America and Marcelino coming to Cuba, where he went to work as a fisherman.

In the meantime the father had died, leaving a fortune estimated at more than a million, and the mother started a search to find her children. The daughter was finally traced to South America, and thru her the son was located here.

Recently Marcelino, in ragged clothes, peering with the smell of fish, hopped from his tiny fish-laden craft into the water and waded ashore.

A well-dressed woman was waiting for him—his mother, the Marcelino didn't know.

Mrs. Dumont spoke no Spanish and Marcelino no English. What did that matter? Crying with joy, the mother clasped the grimy fisherman to her heart and wept. Not understanding, Marcelino asked thru an interpreter, what was wrong, and his sister and the interpreter called out to him:

"This is mama."
Mrs. Dumont then pulled Marcelino's shirt open.

"Yes, it's my son," she cried, "Marcelino, at last I've found him. I know him by this mole."

ENGLAND PLANS EXPANSION OF CREDIT, PREMIER SAYS

LONDON.—(By United Press).—England is in the grip of the worst unemployment situation of the century, Premier Lloyd George declared in commons today.

Arrangement of trade and fluctuations of exchange, caused by the war, were to blame, he said.

Revival of England's foreign trade is vital, Lloyd George said.

"The government purpose to widen their export credit scheme to include the entire empire, and others as well as war-torn countries. They will raise the guarantee to traders from $5 to 100 per cent."

More than 7,000,000,000 cigarettes were sent from the United States to China last year.

WOOLEY BACKED BY M'ADOO

Fights To Make Him Head of Democrats.

By HARRY HUNT

WASHINGTON.—McAdoo, for president, in 1924 forces in the Democratic party are expected to try to make Robert W. Wooley national chairman at the meeting of the Democratic National Committee scheduled to open in St. Louis Nov. 1.

This means that they will try to oust George White, the present chairman and close friend of James M. Cox, who was defeated for president by Warren G. Harding.

Wooley was director of publicity for the Democratic National Committee in 1916. Later he served as director of the mint and interstate commerce commissioner under the Wilson administration.

Many high Democrats favor McAdoo's candidacy in 1924. It is definitely known. These include some former members of the Wilson cabinet. The fight, if it comes, will be only a continuation of a tilt that has flared up intermittently ever since White became chairman.

SELECTED BY COX
When Cox was asked to pick a chairman for the committee last fall he selected White from a long list of aspirants.

The opinion prevailed that White didn't want the job and that he'd resign as soon as the election was over, but White stuck and to the present he's given no indication that he intends to resign.

Acting on the assumption that White would resign, some elements began to back Wooley for the chairmanship at a meeting of the executive committee here right after the election. A tilt of considerable intensity developed.

But the meeting ended in a vote of confidence being given to White.

FIGHT CARRIED ON
Since that time the Wooley supporters have been waging their fight quietly. It is reported, and marshaling forces for a smash at the November meeting.

Some say Wooley can't become chairman because he isn't a member of the Democratic National Committee. But neither was White when he was appointed. An Ohio member of the committee gracefully resigned and White was put in his place, thus making him eligible.

Similar maneuvers could be employed in Wooley's behalf.

PROTEST SERVICE DISCONTINUANCE

C. C. to Oppose Abandonment of Defiance Line.

The board of directors of the Lima Chamber of Commerce Wednesday authorized the appointment of a committee of three to investigate the proposed abandonment of service on the Defiance division on the I. C. & E. line.

President R. B. Dunn will name his committee within 24 hours and an immediate probe into the facts surrounding the company's action in its proposal to withdraw service between Lima and Defiance will be made.

The directors of the chamber of commerce expressed the sentiment that the matter is of too much importance to Lima and Lima people to permit the I. C. & E. to take such action without good cause being given. It was declared. Patrons of the line both here and in Defiance would be seriously discommoded if all service on that division is abandoned, it was held.

YANKEES REMAIN

U. S. Soldiers Not To Be Brought From Germany.

YORKTOWN.—(By United Press).—Ratification of the treaty with Germany does not mean that the American troops will be removed from Germany in the near future, it was learned from a member of President Harding's official party today.

Some of the soldiers may be recalled but the majority will continue the occupation, this official said. "The American flag will continue to fly on the Rhine," he said.

Withdrawal of the entire American force, will come "only in due course of time," he added.

PARENT-TEACHER STATE PRESIDENT

MRS. S. M. WILLIAMS

Presence of four healthy youngsters of her own in the public schools, bent on securing an education, was the incentive which caused Mrs. S. M. Williams, 1531 Lakewood-ave, to take up work in the Parent-Teacher association.

Mrs. Williams was re-elected president of the Ohio Parent-Teacher association, at the close of the annual conference in Warren, last week. She won out in the election by a large majority of votes.

It was in 1906 that Mrs. Williams first became identified with the association. As chairman of the organization committee, she instituted 44 associations in Kansas City, Kansas.

Coming to Lima in 1915, she became interested in the work of the association in Ohio. Mrs. Williams was elected president of the Ohio society in 1919 and since that time has served continuously as head of the organization.

"We never enter a school room without being invited by school authorities," Mrs. Williams related. "The purpose of a Parent-Teacher association is co-operation, not interference. It does not attempt supervision of the curriculum or interference with the school administration."

"The association has induced parents to accompany their children not only to the school door, but thru it. The gulf between parent and teacher has been bridged; the two partners in the highest and holiest of all callings, child training, have become acquainted; a general partnership has been established. Instead of working apart, they are working together," she said.

Parent-Teacher associations have been organized in every grade school in Lima. Plans are being made during the winter to extend these associations to include both Central and South High schools, where associations will be organized, according to Mrs. Williams.

Building of homes led all forms of construction during September. The value of building contracts was distributed like this:

Residences ..... 8 per cent
Business Buildings ..... 17 per cent
Public Works and
Utilities ..... 14 per cent
Schools ..... 11 per cent

Predictions that a long-range building boom has begun were made a month ago, when it was announced by the Geological Survey that production and shipments of Portland cement during August broke all records for that month and were 15 per cent above the average for August, 1917-1920.

PRICES LOWER
Building permits issued in August in the 197 leading cities totaled in money value 36 per cent more.

In August, 1920, according to statistics compiled by the American Contractor, September made another big increase.

Prices are much lower now than a year ago, hence $1 of building represents more actual construction work than during the post-war boom.

Contractors say the best reason for believing that building activity will continue at a high rate is in the fact that labor is producing more work per hour than a year ago.

September Contracts in 27 States Set Record.

(By ALBERT APPLE)
NEW YORK.—(By NEA Service).—A building boom is well under way in nearly every part of the country.

Building contracts placed during September in the 27 northern and eastern states totaled $246,186,000, according to the F. W. Dodge Co.

This was the greatest total ever reached by building activity during September.

It was a gain of 12 per cent over August, the building usually slumps 15 per cent in September, compared with August.

HOMES LEAD

ROBBERY MYSTERY IS DEEPEDED

Box Which Contained Bergdoll Papers Is Found.

GILLET WILL ORDER PROBE

Office of Ohio Congressman Riffled by Thieves.

WASHINGTON. — (By Associated Press.) — The box, containing Bergdoll investigation and private papers stolen from the office of Representative Johnson of Kentucky Monday night, was found early today on the fifth floor of the house office building broke open and with important documents missing.

Employees of the building reported that they located the box in an unoccupied storage room, completely covered over with rubbish. After a hurried examination of papers which were not removed, Mr. Johnson announced that some of his private letters had not been disturbed, but that every document showed evidence of close inspection and that not a single slip of paper relating to the Bergdoll investigation was left.

PROBES PROMISED
After a conference with Speaker Gillett, who stated he proposed to take to the bottom of the matter, Mr. Johnson called on the Washington police to obtain the finger prints of all office building police and workmen. He said he wanted these for comparison with finger prints found on the window pane of the office which the thieves cut away to gain entrance.

The office of Representative Nicholas Longworth, Republican, Ohio, on the fourth floor of the house office building, was entered last night by robbers, who broke open two filing cabinets, finding nothing of value, the robbers vented their spite on an umbrella by breaking it up. The office was entered apparently thru a window on the court side.

EDUCATIONAL CRISIS NEAR, HARDING SAYS

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — America faces an educational crisis, President Harding declared today in a speech at the installation of President J. A. C. Chaudler, of William and Mary College here.

Reports of shortage of school houses and shortage of teachers come from every corner of the land, he said. It is a hopeful sign, Harding added, that school revenues are increasing.

So long as the eagerness for education outruns the facilities, there will be assurance that we are going forward, he said.

NEIGHBORHOOD FEUD RAGES BECAUSE OF CAT'S ACTIVITIES

Feline Pet of S. Main-st. Young Woman Annoys Some and Pleases Others

Grocer Defends Claimant to City Championship as Rat Catcher

Introducing "Boobie."

"Boobie" be it known, is a feline supreme. She's Lima's champion ratcatcher, is "Boobie" and she holds forth in the prominent S. Main-st. block at the Spring-st. intersection.

Albeit "Boobie" may be termed by the tender name of "chicken" — she's only one and one-half years in this world — she has already put all other Lima cats to shame in the art of ratting.

Be it known that the entire family of Lima cats, aristocrats, bums and common alley cats, hide in shame at mention of "Boobie." What cat with any pride nestled in its cat's soul could face "Boobie" with her record of from four to 14 rats slaughtered daily, not to mention a daily average of some half score mice ambushed and drogged from their lairs each day?

"It can't be done," is the mournful feline midnight wail, as in unison and individually Lima's entire cat population takes a back seat at the marvelous stunts accomplished by "Boobie."

FEUD IS RAGING.
And there's a deep, tense, neighborhood feud hanging fire because of "Boobie's" daily (and nightly) activities.

The feline miss is the property of Miss Ruth Hartzog, 202 1-2 S. Main-st., and hangs out alternately at the Hubbard Grocery store and the hallways outside the door of her mistress' home on the second floor of the block. Other tenants of the building, or at least some of them, have a grudge against "Boobie." Some defend her and uphold her actions, maintaining that any self-respecting cat has a right to prowl the highways and byways during the night time, but —

The cause of woe is that "Boobie" after slaughtering her prey, artfully closes her vengeful teeth on the bodies of her murdered victims and, head held high, straightway carries them to the block wherein her mistress dwells and deposits them about the hallways, there to remain until some of the irate tenants discover them in the morning, or until Alonso Bush, janitor of the building, scoops them up and burys them.

And therein lies the feud.
Bush threatens to slay "Boobie." R. H. Hubbard, S. Main-st. grocer in whose establishment "Boobie" is accustomed to hang out during the day, strongly defends his guest, maintaining that whoever kills "Boobie" will be treated roughly.

CAUSES DELIGHT, HATE.
And there you are, Lima's champion ratcatcher is the central figure of delight and hate.

Be it said in closing that "Boobie" originally, hails from Chicago, she being an aristocratic member of the social set of the Windy City. She was tenderly cared for during her younger months by her present owner and has, since becoming a resident of Lima, been to the hospital for treatment on three different occasions.

Friends of "Boobie" say she is beautiful to look at but, well — she's just an ordinary black and yellow feline, of no particular pedigree.

"Shrewd? Why say," declared Miss Hartzog, "she is the most intelligent feline in Lima. She has a keen, wicked eye, and she likes to fool us."

DO YOU GET UP NIGHTS ON ACCOUNT OF BLADDER?

This Symptom Tells You Something Is Wrong. A Dayton Man's Experience.

Mr. John Lumbkins, 7 Carrie St., Dayton, Ohio, says in his own home paper, the Dayton Herald: "For two years I had to get up fifteen to twenty times each night. The scalding and burning was awful. After taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu, the gravel came, until at least twenty-five pieces have passed. Some were as large as a bean. I am glad to have this way of telling my fellow sufferers about this great new remedy."
Lithiated Buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom Salts on the bowels. It cleans them out and helps to relieve the bladder of abnormal deposits. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several expensive drugs, which are useful for relief. The formula is on the package. It is likely you have never taken anything similar. Try a few doses for backache, stinging, scanty or high colored urine and frequent desire at night.
Be sure to get the Keller formula Lithiated Buchu at drug stores everywhere, or write The Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio—Adv.

MAN CRUELLY BEATS FALLEN HORSE AS A POLICEMAN LOOKS ON

A horse traversing W. High-st near the postoffice slipped and fell on the wood block pavement Wednesday morning. It was unable to arise after repeated efforts and lay prone on the pavement. A crowd gathered.

Willing hands loosened the animal from its harness and attempted to assist it to its feet. One man in the crowd, whose name was not learned, seized a heavy huddled bridge strap and lashed the helpless animal on the head. The cruel thong cut deeply into the flesh and blood came. The crowd laughed as the beast groaned in agony. A policeman watched the incident, but did not interfere.

The horse, owned by a painter, was finally gotten on to its feet after nearly two hours suffering. It wobbled away weakly, wearily pulling a heavy wagon.

Jason Canfield, Kenton, a member of the state auditor's office, arrived in Lima to assist Gableman.

A check of the books of the city waterworks remains, in addition to an uncompleted general audit of the city's books now being made, Gableman announced.

WEAK BLOOD IS A REAL BARRIER

Growing Children Often Need Gude's Pepto-Mangan

Some children grow too quickly — it saps their strength. They lapse into careless, desultory habits, or develop a shrinking attitude. Their faces look pinched.

The blood becomes overtaxed by too rapid growth; and poisons from the system take the place of strength-giving red corpuscles in the blood. Hard corpuscles are those little red particles that swim in blood and give it its color. Gradually that child loses interest in its play.

Poor blood needs the building that the iron in Gude's Pepto-Mangan gives to weakened blood. Gude's Pepto-Mangan enriches the blood by increasing the number of red corpuscles, and restores the blood by driving out the poisons. When the revived blood gets to work, the appetite becomes what a growing child's should be. Your druggist has Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid or tablet form. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on every package. — Adv.

FARMERS IN NEED OF FIRST AID

Chairman of Committee Tells Plans for Relief.

(By N. E. A. SERVICE)

WASHINGTON.—The farming industry in the United States is seriously sick and needs first aid promptly.

That's what the Joint Committee of Agricultural Inquiry will tell Congress when it submits its final report tomorrow. The committee is continuing the investigation it started in June into every phase of American agricultural conditions.

Representative Sydney Anderson of Minnesota, chairman of the committee, says findings of the investigation have blasted popular ideas of the farmer's prosperity.

"Before this investigation started," Anderson said, "everybody thought that 'liquidation' was complete as far as the farming industry was concerned. We've exploded that."

"We've shown that, instead of decreasing, the volume of loans at Federal Reserve Banks in agricultural districts was on the upgrade up to June."

"Why? Because the low prices late in 1920 and early in 1921 didn't yield the farmer enough profit to liquidate his debts."

"By the end of this year the farmers will be right back where they were in 1913."

Anderson says these are the causes of agricultural sickness:

ONE—Low prices of the things the farmer sells and high prices of the things he buys.

TWO—Decline in exports, especially livestock.

THREE—Dropping off of domestic consumption of farm products.

FOUR—High freight rates.

FIVE—Credit limitations.

SLASH COMING IN RAIL RATES

Wool and Hardwood Producers Will Be Benefitted.

WASHINGTON.—Freight rate revisions vitally affecting prices of furniture, building material, automobiles and clothing probably will be announced soon by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The revisions will apply directly to raw wool and Southern hardwood. They will run in a graduated scale, ranging from 25 to 35 per cent.

Wool and hardwood producers probably have been the most hard hit of all post-war freight boosters because the producing areas of both products are a long way from the manufacturing points.

WOOL PRODUCTION.

Total wool production in the United States averages around 250,000,000 pounds a year. Every state in the union produces some wool, but the states where the rate revisions will bring the greatest relief are:

State	Annual Production
Wyoming	25,422,000
Idaho	21,702,000
Texas	17,000,000
Utah	16,150,000
Montana	15,500,000
New Mexico	15,528,000
California	13,165,000
Ohio	12,449,000
Michigan	10,223,000

All these big wool producing states are in the middle west or far west. But the factories that handle the wool are in the east, chiefly in New England. So the wool has to be hauled the way or half the way across the continent.

Practically all the wool consumed in the United States is manufactured into clothing, says the Department of Commerce. Rate revisions probably will be reflected in a drop in retail clothing prices.

HARDWOOD RATES.

Hardwood rate revisions will apply only to southern states. The hardwood producing states are Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Arkansas.

Practically all the factories using southern hardwood are in the north. Grand Rapids, Mich., Jamestown, N. Y., Rockford, Wis., Shelbyport, Wis., Detroit and Chicago are the biggest manufacturing centers.

LIMA DEALERS STILL SELLING THE "MAKINGS" FOR WANTED BEVERAGES

Lima dealers in home brewing products Tuesday announced that they will continue the sale of ingredients used in manufacture of beverages.

Attempts of prohibition agents to enforce a "dry" law against the Treasury Department against selling malt extracts and materials will be disregarded.

According to J. M. Ford, of the Ford-Rambo company, probably the largest dealers in beverage ingredients in Allen-co the dealers over the country are not concerned particularly.

Hop growers and maltsters have, however, worn a trail to Washington carrying protests. These protests have resulted, he claims, in the department announcing that the ruling of Prohibition Commissioner Haines was totally unenforced.

Dealers claim that the materials, malt, hops, caps and other goods are sold for non-beverage purposes.

Ford stated that he was retiring from business according to arrangements made several weeks ago, but other dealers here, he understands, will continue to sell home brew materials.

Commissioner Haines' order has apparently come to naught as dealers in Toledo and other cities are defying it, according to reports.

PROBING PRICES

Government Alleges Cement Makers Are In Combine.

WASHINGTON.—NEA Service.—Construction programs all over the country have been retarded and the unemployment situation aggravated by high prices of Portland cement, erected by a combine. Department of Justice officials charge.

Building of homes and good roads has been particularly affected. The department is engaged in a sweeping nation-wide investigation.

Portland cement is the most important building material, used in everything from sidewalks to skyscrapers, homes to ocean liners.

Starting with an annual output of 124,000 barrels in 1880, the industry has grown until today more than 800,000,000 barrels are produced and used in the United States every year.

The association has filed a reply denying all these charges. Hearings will be held in the United States district court for the southern district of New York. Date has not yet been set.

RETURN OF ROAD AID ASSURED

Herrick Promises Lima Men $209,000 For Allen-co.

Speaking before a luncheon group of 50 Harding Highway boosters at the Marion Club at Marion, Tuesday, Leon C. Herrick, director of highways of the State of Ohio in referring to the Phipps Dood bill just reported out of the joint conference committee of Congress said:

"Last February I took $209,000 away from Allen-co. I was likewise compelled to take Federal aid from Harding-co. I intend to replace every cent taken away from these two counties out of the new appropriation."

Additional possibilities for Allen-co to finance its five year program were shown in another statement by Herrick, as follows:

"I have just completed negotiations with the department of finance, whereby the state will be able to finance the county's share in proposed road building up to $15,000,000 and the first counties that apply for the money, bonds to be taken by the industrial commission, will be the ones that will get it."

Allen-co is particularly interested in his statement that: "I hope to be ready to sell the jobs for the main arteries of the state, including the Dixie and Harding Highways by the 15th day of January and while I know it is hoping for almost the impossible, because of exigencies arising in various counties thruout the spring, yet I hope to sell all 1922 construction work on state highways thruout Ohio between January 15th and March 15th."

The directors voted to extend the road east from Mansfield to Wooster and on thru to Canton, making it connect the home of the martyred McKinley and the home of the present President, with the proviso that the new counties be responsible for the getting in of Stark-co on the Canton end and that each county be responsible for 200 memberships in the association.

WOMAN MAY GET LIFER FREED

Says Girl Murdered By Parents, Not By Prisoner.

SILENT FOR TEN YEARS

Meanwhile Pleads for Justice—May Get $5,000.

MADISON, Wis. — (By N. E. A. Service) — John A. Johnson, a life-termer, who has served 10 years of his sentence, sits in his cell in the penitentiary at Waupun, while the state is gathering the evidence expected to show he is innocent.

After 10 years Martin Lemberger has been arrested charged with the murder of his five-year-old daughter whose death Johnson was sent to prison. The trial of Lemberger will be held within the coming month.

For 10 years Johnson has been protesting his innocence, altho he pleaded guilty. He has always claimed that he made this plea to save himself from a mob which the officers had told him were storming the jail to lynch him.

After entering the penitentiary, Johnson wrote letter after letter to state officials, repeating, "I am innocent! I never committed this crime."

INQUIRY ORDERED
Finally an investigation was ordered by Gov. Blaine on an application for a pardon. Into the hearing came a woman who demanded that the officials listen to her story. Her name was Mrs. May Sorenson.

She said she was Mrs. May Sorenson and had known the Lembergers for years.

"The day following the murder," she swore, "Lemberger's little boy Alois confessed to me that his father killed the child."

Little Annie Lemberger disappeared from her home September 5, 1911. She was about six years old. At first it was thought she had been kidnapped. Searching parties were organized and the whole community was ransacked from cellar to garret.

Johnson, known to police as "Dog-Skin" Johnson, was taken to the police station. There was no definite information pointing to his guilt. His previous court record, however, placed him under suspicion. And he confessed under the third degree.

FATHER'S THREAT
Martin Lemberger and his wife have continued to make their home at Madison. Whenever there was any talk of a pardon for Johnson, Lemberger would issue a statement that "if Johnson is given his freedom, I will take care of him."

Then on August 28, 1920, Maud Bunker, a school teacher of Lodi, Wis., wrote to Gov. Phillip, stating that a relative of Lemberger had told her that the father had committed the crime. She said she could not sleep since she had learned of the injustice.

Mrs. Johnson hired lawyers with money earned by washing.

When John J. Blaine was inaugurated governor, last January, the Johnson family renewed their efforts to obtain a pardon.

WIFE'S STORY
Mrs. Sorenson told the pardon board she was called to the Lemberger home the morning of the disappearance of the child and found the mother weeping.

After a time little Alois told her that the father had hit the child over the head with a beer bottle at a "beer party" the night before; that his sister had died in a few minutes; and that the father hid the body under a tub in the cellar. Then a man was paid $25 to throw the body in the lake.

Mrs. Sorenson said she had seen the blood-stained pillow slips from the bed where Annie had been laid; she found the nightgown worn by

"I held my tongue for 10 years," she said, "because Martin Lemberger had threatened to choke me if I should reveal anything."

Arraigned in court, Lemberger has pleaded not guilty and his bail was fixed at $10,000.

Should Lemberger be convicted Johnson will be freed and will be paid $5,000.

1500 Machines at Dayton May Be Used in Strike.

FLIERS MAY BE OBTAINED

News of Interest From Various Ohio Cities.

DAYTON — (By United Press) — If the railroad strike comes, it is expected that the 1,500 airplanes stored at Wilbur Wright field, together with others at McCook field, and those in the hands of private owners, will be pressed into transport service.

No orders of any kind have been received at the army posts up to the present time, but if they do come the work of assembling the planes will be rushed to completion. The planes would be used for the quick transport of food supplies and mails to points where needed.

There are sufficient men at Wilbur Wright field to assemble the planes in storage there within 20 days. This time limit could be reduced to a minimum thru the employment of civilians who had assembling experience during the war.

Aviators to man the machines could be obtained too, thru employment of civilian fliers. If the worst comes, and the strike goes on, machines and pilots would be sent to central distributing points and quick side trips would be made.

RHEUMATISM FOR YEARS LEFT HIM HELPLESS AND UNABLE TO WORK—CURED

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Hunter's 3 Drug Stores, Enterprise Drug Store, Thompson's 3 Drug Stores, Intourban Drug Stores, Public Drug Store, have been named agents for Allegheny in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.—Adv.

I recommend Nerv-Worth because of the fact that it certainly does help me when I become nervous and tired out after a long term of nursing. Thus wrote Claire Childers, a Parkersburg, W. The above is an endorsement from a woman whose profession constantly throws her in contact with medicine and their uses, and various kinds of sickness. A nurse does not recommend anything that is not good, and their professional knowledge makes their recommendation worth while. Nothing needs to be added to the above statement, as it tells fully what Nerv-Worth does. # "PETER IBBETSON" BEST PHOTOGRAPHED PLAY

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
The star of the film version of "Peter Ibbetson" is Arthur Miller, the cameraman according to James W. Dean, New York correspondent for this newspaper. He says that this photograph is photographically the best that has yet graced the silver screen. George Fitzmaurice, director, probably should share in the credit for that. The film contains more double exposures than any other ever exhibited, but interest in that is lost in the sheer beauty of the exterior. Their photographic composition gives them the quality of fine steel engravings.

"Peter Ibbetson" is Wallace Reid's most pretentious attempt at romantic acting. He measures up to the requirements of all his scenes except the close-up. In that he relies upon his chief stock in trade for facial expression—the arched eyebrow.

Elsie Ferguson, his co-star, completely subordinates her own personality to that of the character of Mimi. Thus one would hardly think of the character as being Miss Ferguson were she not killed on the program. Praise be to her, for this is the first photograph in which she has accomplished it.

However, historic honors go to George Fawcett in the role of Major Dequenois. He makes that lovable old character stand out on the screen as a living, breathing entity of the picture.

This film, like almost all films of extra footage, contains a lot of extraneous matter and scenes that detract from the story interest. However, the photography is such an artistic treat that one is quite willing that the fade-out be delayed.

This is George Fitzmaurice's best directed picture. The supporting cast is entirely adequate. The photography is superlative quality. Thus "Peter Ibbetson" takes rank with the best photoplays of the year.

"The Woman God Changed" at the Faurot

YOU court room fans are the favored ones this week at the Faurot, where, in "The Woman God Changed" you may sit in delicious comfort and witness a murder trial from A to Z. And the prisoner in this instance is a woman, and a good looking one, too.

The picture is rather unusual in some ways, principally because it is merely the story of a trial. You meet the heroine in the court room and you leave her there. As the testimony of the witnesses is told, it goes back to show you the actual happenings, and in this matter you learn of how a bad woman killed a good man, but who later became a good woman, loved a good man, and that by the time she is tried for murder committed three years ago, she isn't really the woman who murdered.

Psychology, eh? You wouldn't imagine it would go over in a court room, where only real facts are considered. In this picture, however, the jury and the judge eat it. The jury won't find her guilty and the judge won't send her to prison.

The story is one of Donna Byrne's who knows how to write. However, it was undoubtedly a better story than a picture. You are being shown a well acted, photographed and in the main beautiful picture, you left a canny eyebrow, for you have been to several murder trials yourself. Oh, well, truth is stranger than fiction—so let it go at that.

"The Woman God Changed" is quite sure to keep you in your seats till the bitter end, even tho it is a bit lengthy and it takes a long time getting as far as the climax. Seena Owen manages to get over in the wild-cat nature of the dancing girl with a quiet power and intelligent restraint. E. K. Lincoln, the hero, is substantial and modestly self-effacing.

At the Faurot today and for the remainder of this week.

DAYTON IS SEEKING TO REMOVE GRADE CROSSINGS

DAYTON.—Representatives of all railroads passing thru Dayton conferred with city officials today and submitted plans for eliminating grade crossings. Preliminary surveys show the cost will be about $25,000, but this does not include damages to adjoining property.

The question of expense, it was stated, would probably prevent the early execution of the proposed plans and no definite decisions were reached.

"I am a graduate of the Cincinnati, Ohio, College of Pharmacy.

"After my long experience with medicines, I feel that I am in a position to judge the good from the bad as well as it is possible for the average man to do.

"Recently I contracted a severe cold. It weakened my system. I took Peppen and found it to be a good builder and tonic. I paid particular attention to the effect of Peppen while I was taking it and found it to be an unusually good appetizer, tonic and strengthener.

"I am glad to recommend Peppen." Peppen is made from roots and barks which have remarkable tonic, appetizing and laxative powers. Sick headaches, dizzy spells, sallow complexion, nervousness, sleeplessness, under weight and many other ailments are frequently due to slow or feeble digestion or to habitual constipation. When such is the case, Peppen seldom fails to give relief.

Peppen is a new system medicine which is being specially introduced at Hunter's Drug Stores it is also sold by other leading drug stores in Lima and nearby towns.

THE DARING "SLIP-OFF" EVENING GOWNS

(BY MARIAN HALE)
NEW YORK — We hear a lot about the slip-off dress—it has been a popular fashion for some time. Now comes the slip-off!

Evening gowns are showing a decided sliding effect when it comes to falling off the shoulder.

An attractive evening gown of flesh-pussy yellow and satin, richly embroidered in crystal beads, combines rare oriental suggestions with New York suggestiveness.

Of course, when one has beautiful shoulders nothing could be more commanding than this gown.

The skirt girdled with crystal beads is draped in graceful oriental folds. The gown falls off only one shoulder—fortunately.

The gown on the right leaves the shoulders exposed. It is of indestructible chiffon voile and velvet stripes. The sleeves are flowing and caught merely at the shoulder and elbow.

Members of the Domestic Science club were delightfully entertained at an attractively appointed 1 o'clock luncheon given at the Barr Hotel Tuesday by Mrs. W. F. Hoover, of W. Market-st. Following the luncheon the guests were invited into the mezzanine where a program and musicale were given. Responses to roll call were answered with "Originalities in Domestic Science." Mrs. George R. Nell read a paper on "Meaning of Domestic Science" after which Mrs. Clarence Klinger favored with a group of songs, accompanied by Miss Mary K. Roby. Miss Nell Fursell gave several piano selections while Mrs. Charles Black sang accompanied by Mrs. H. W. Meier. As a finale Mrs. Black and Mrs. Klinger sang "My Old Kentucky Home," the guests joining in the chorus.

Guests other than members included Mrs. Edward Maxwell, of El Paso, Tex., Mrs. Fred DeGrief, of Lafayette, Ind., Mrs. John B. Kerr, Mrs. Clarence Klinger, Mrs. Kate Thompson, of Los Angeles, Cal., Mrs. Nellie Lowry, of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Vernon Fisher.

"Always Something New"

LETTERS TO LOVERS

By WINONA WILCOX

Human beings do not always or very often move according to their own free will. There are put here there by their instincts and impulses; they are forced to detour from the moral route they expected to follow by the unguessed strength of their emotions.

If they knew a little more about these emotions, they would be somewhat prepared to face and fight their unseen enemies.

"I have erred and the realization breaks my heart," writes a girl. "Working in my father's office, I felt in love with a man who has a wife and family.

"I drifted into this feeling. When I discovered it, I tried to conceal it. I thought I had succeeded when, without warning, he took me in his arms and kissed me.

"I am 30 years old. I awakened to what I loved might mean to me. I did not know before.

"A few days later he kissed me again and I yielded willingly.

"I have never been at my desk since. I have never entered my father's place of business.

"The man wrote me a letter of apology. I replied that I felt much my fault as his and that I felt humbled and ashamed when I thought of his wife. She is a sweet little thing.

"I want to explain that when this happened I was in the clutches of an uncontrollable emotion, something I cannot define.

"Everybody respects me, no one would dare hint that I ever have slipped or stumbled like some of the foolish virgins I know. I am sorry several more similar paragraphs.

It is printed because it is wholesome reading. Conscience never goes out of fashion.

This confession betrays the complex nature of the sensitive well-bred American girl. Her inhibitions had always ruled her until she arrived at maturity when they overwhelmed her to her amazement and humiliation.

Her remorse must be a confusing revelation to girls of a conspicuous modern type. The embraces to which she succumbed, and the remorse which ensued doubtless seem rather absurd to many a girl who accepts spooning with any man, married or single, as the expected feature of a moment's isolation.

We rise on stepping stones of our dead selves to higher things, says the poet. But nobody can rise far if he or she keeps turning around and looking backward.

It would seem wise for the young woman to stop repenting, and to go to work again. Her kind requires but one lesson.

Miss Ruth Seymour, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. and Mrs. Ross Mullen left Wednesday for Cincinnati, where they will attend a three day field conference of the Ohio and West Virginia fields. Representative members from the association president finance committee members, industrial and foreign born committee members, membership committee and general secretaries will be present. Those attending the conference will be guests of the Cincinnati Y. W. C. A. board members.

Mrs. Lulu M. Butler, of W. Spring-st., will give a talk on the "Psychology of Color" at the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening. The general public is cordially invited to attend.

Monday evening Mrs. Carl Ekstrom, of W. Haller-st., entertained a group of friends in honor of Mr. Ekstrom's birthday anniversary. The evening was enjoyed socially and at a late hour a dainty luncheon was served.

Guests present included Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Archer and daughters, Caroline and Gilbert; Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin, of Harrod; Mrs. Wandlow, Miss Thelma Boyd, Howard and Dolph. Mrs. George McCreary and daughter, Emma Catherine, of Alger.

SUSIE SMART SAYS

Dear Miss Smart: A short time ago I met a young man who seemed very nice. I liked him very much the first time I met him. He has taken me out several times and has always been very nice to me. However, he has not taken me out often and I think I know the reason. I never seem to know what to say when I am out with him. I have not gone with very many boys and I am anxious to have him like me and to take me out frequently. Can't you please tell me what I can talk about to make myself interesting and to make him like me? Can't you help me?

BASHFUL

Of course I can. Your difficulty lies in the fact that in trying to make yourself interesting and in trying to make the young man like you, you have sought for unusual topics of conversation. Instead of endeavoring to discover some topic of conversation why not use the simple, natural, everyday topics? Talk about your diversions, and your friend's diversions, the amusing and unusual little incidents which occur during the day. Don't feel that the entire burden of the conversation should lie with you. Your friend should share in preventing the conversation from lagging. Encourage him to talk of his work and his hobby. It is just as important that you learn to be a good listener as it is that you become a good conversationalist.

Dear Miss Smart: I am not very old, but I am troubled with so many wrinkles. I have always used cold cream but always regularly. Is there something I might use to do away with them?

DESIRED

No one cares to have a wrinkles "before their time." Try this following treatment and I am very certain that you will be delighted with the results: Apply hot towels to the face, to open the pores. Then rub in a cleansing cream to cut the grease.

THE FLYING HOOF

By WILLIAM JOHNSON

Suzanne Trask picks up a sealed letter from the window of the rooming house. It is a letter from the man who has been threatening her. She is being threatened by a young man whose name she does not know. She is being threatened by a young man whose name she does not know. She is being threatened by a young man whose name she does not know.

Jane looked up from the sketch she was making—a design for a Japanese room, created largely from several works of Japanese art at her shop.

"Trask, she said to her partner, what we ought to have done was to go to the police at once."

"Trask, otherwise Suzanne—when they were alone almost invariably they addressed each other by their real names, man-fashion—looked up from the old chair she was huddled against in repairing, and shook her head.

"You couldn't identify the couple that bound and gagged you, could you?"

"No-o," admitted Jane regretfully. "It all happened so unexpectedly. All I remember is that they looked sort of common and out of place. I thought it was some war profiteer and his wife hunting for a place."

"Well, then what could the police have done? Remember we weren't robbed of anything?"

"At least, we could get that old envelope and see what's at the bottom of all this mystery."

"It's better off where it is until we find the owner," persisted Suzanne. "I'd be afraid to have it around."

"Then that's all right. I'll let you have it after it. I'll let you have it after it. I'll let you have it after it."

"And maybe get myself arrested for larceny? Besides, I don't trust the police. There's Judge Keaton! With my own eyes I saw him and the biggest gambler in New York working together hand in glove, deliberately planning to murder a man to get some documents from him. Maybe they have murdered him, for all we know."

"About the only change in Suzanne's and Jane's life was that each of them had taken to carrying a revolver in her handbag, and each night and morning they kept vigilant eyes on the house next door, but never since the night of Suzanne's adventure had they seen either a window open or a blind raised."

But tonight Suzanne had a dinner invitation.

"I don't feel the idea of leaving you in the apartment alone, old thing," she had said to Jane.

"Run along and don't worry about me," Jane insisted grimly. "I know the worst already. They had me bound and gagged, and it didn't really hurt me, nothing except my dignity. I'll be all right."

So half past nine found Suzanne, looking her prettiest, chatting merrily over the coffee with Harry Campbell. Several times during the dinner she had been on the point of describing her adventures, but always as she thought of it something within checked her. It wasn't her secret.

As she was talking with her escort, her eyes turned toward the entrance as three men came in together. Suzanne gave them a second startled look, and, turning to her companion, whispered excitedly:

"Who's that just come in—that tall blond chap with two other men?"

Campbell turned casually to look in the direction of her glance.

"Oh, that blond chap," he said carelessly. "That's Roddy Dean. I thought everybody knew him, at least by sight. His football playing made him quite a hero four or five years ago."

"Oh, said Suzanne interestedly, 'so that's Roddy Dean.'"

In spite of herself she felt the color rising in her cheeks. Roddy Dean! How could she have forgotten him! Years ago, when she was a junior at college, she had seen him twice on the football field. She had been a cheering witness when he made that history-making run that won the game for his eleven.

For days thereafter his picture—a newspaper clipping it was and far from flattering—had smiled at her from the corner of her mirror, where she had enshrined it. No wonder Roddy Dean's face, as she viewed it across the courtyard when he tossed out that envelope had seemed familiar.

"What has he done since he left college?" she asked.

"What's he done?" repeated Campbell anxiously. "Well, he was a star in the war, but he doesn't have to do anything. He's got at least ten millions."

"I suppose," she said suggestively, "that with so much money he is a heavy sport, backing comic operas and all that sort of thing."

"Guess again," said Campbell. "Roddy Dean is Manhattan's model young multi. He takes an occasional drink, but he doesn't gamble, and nobody ever saw him at the same show twice. There's never been a bit of scandal about him. He's one of the sort that take life seriously and look on his money as a responsibility—goes in for civic betterment and that sort of rot. Not that he's one of these Pharisaical reformers or anything like that. He's just a decent chap trying to do the right thing with his money."

It did not hurt Suzanne's feelings in the least to have her judgment of Roddy Dean thus affirmed.

She must see Roddy Dean, see him alone and him tonight. How could she contrive to bring it about? There came to her mind a maxim of her practical partner.

"The easiest way's always the best."

Excusing herself to her escort, she left the roof and one of the maids brought her pencil and paper. Hastily she scribbled a note.

Dear Mr. Dean:

I must see you at once on a matter most important to you. As soon as the bellboy hands you this, come down in the elevator to the main floor. I will be waiting for you there. You do not know me, but I have what you lost.

SUZANNE TRASK.

Regardless of what her waiting escort might think of her prolonged absence, she found a bellboy and slipped him to deliver the note at once. Then she descended to the main floor, where she sat down in a chair near the elevator.

Impatiently she waited. Would he never come?

At least she glimpsed him emerging from the descending elevator. As he drew nearer, she caught her breath, observing on the lapel of his coat an odd little emblem of some sort.

It revealed itself as he came close—a tiny golden hoof with two outstretched wings, unquestionably the same design that had been roughly outlined in the wax that sealed the envelope.

"Miss Trask?" he said, expectantly.

"Yes," she answered. "I wanted to tell you that I recovered that sealed envelope when you threw it away. I have it safe."

"What envelope?" Dean asked, a look of polite amazement coming into his face. "Sorry, but I'm afraid you have mistaken me for some one else."

"Indeed I haven't!" she cried in desperation. "It was you. I saw you throw the envelope out the window to keep Epstein from getting it—that big envelope sealed with three red seals."

With a courteous bow, he turned and left her, entering an ascending elevator. Completely dumfounded by his attitude, she stood for a moment staring stupidly after him. Then, recovering herself, she hastened to an elevator and resumed her place opposite Campbell. He had been talking with some friends at a nearby table and had not noted how long she had remained away. He did notice, however, the confusion in which she had returned, when he was called to the telephone. Thankful for the brief respite to recover her composure, she ventured a glance in the direction of Roddy Dean's table. He was seated with his back to her, apparently chatting unconcernedly with his friends.

Her escort returned and began at once to make voluble excuses. He had been telephoned for by one of his most important clients. Would she mind if very much if he did not accompany her home, but sent her off in a taxi? He hoped it would not seem rude, but really the matter was an important one that could not be neglected. Glad of the opportunity to be alone, she pleasantly assented and made ready at once to depart.

Had she only looked behind her as she left the room, her mystification would have been vastly increased. As she arose, one of Dean's companions said something to him in an undertone. Immediately the three of them had risen and as Suzanne and Campbell descended to the main floor, they followed close behind. Had she but once looked back as her escort, following her thru the turning door, had the doorman call a taxi, she would have seen Dean's face, elated and keen, close against the glass of the door, looking half regretfully after her with a puzzled expression.

As Campbell, giving the driver her address, bade her goodnight and closed the door, from the shadow of the building across the street, a man stepped out and whistled softly twice. The taxi driver raised his arm in a careless gesture of acknowledgement and started his car, and the whistler, apparently satisfied, walked rapidly away to enter a few minutes later, Epstein's gambling house.

Suzanne, her brain awl, rode homeward more mystified than ever. Why had Dean refused to admit any interest in the envelope? What had happened in that room after the blinds were drawn? Had he succumbed at last to their threats? No, she couldn't, she wouldn't believe that of him. A man, a man like him, with his football record behind him, would fight to the bitter end.

Suzanne recognizing the familiar West End avenue block began fumbling in her bag for her key.

The taxi stopped, and she sprang out.

From the shadow of a tree beside the curb a waiting figure sprang quickly forward close behind her. A suffocating blanket descended over her head and two powerful arms pinioned her from behind.

THE FURY OF A WOMAN SCORNE HAS NOTHING ON THAT OF A COLLEGE TEAM SURPRISINGLY DEFFATED

THE fury of a woman scorned has nothing on that of a college football team which has just met defeat at the hands of a team they didn't figure on at all.

Witness the murderous game that Ohio State played in slaughtering Minnesota Saturday, after the little Oberlin outfit had trimmed State the week before.

Case is going up against this same sort of proposition down at Wooster Saturday.

For Wooster will have the same rankling memory of that unexpected 3 to 0 defeat at the hands of dear little Kenyon last Friday.

Case will have some job. Wooster has been stung to the quick.

They'll face a Wooster team that has had no chance to forget. Coach Boles is keeping that memory alive every day in practice.

Coach Wilce of State kept the figures "7-6" on the big scoreboard at Ohio Field all last week to arouse his gridders to a pitch at which they would outdo themselves, and they did.

Coach Boles is doing practically the same thing.

He'll drum into his men constantly the fact that they were licked and that the only way to redeem themselves is to lick Case Saturday.

From now until Saturday Wooster's players will think and plan and practice with that single purpose of redeeming themselves.

Ohio Wesleyan, after its defeat in the last five minutes of the game with Case last Saturday, is in the same fighting mood.

Coach Gauthier gave them a tongue-lashing between halves in that game that did a lot of good and he'll keep it up all the week, or I miss my guess.

Wesleyan will go against the unbeaten Miami team at Oxford with a do or die attitude.

Miami will have her hardest game and the chances are only about even for her to win.

Case football coaches realize that the fight isn't over yet, and that, even after Wooster, where chances are so over bright for the local team, come the other topnotchers.

So practice will be brisk all week with the forward pass game as the principal method of attack.

Coach Canfield expects to play a more open game from now on, but the long pass and the delayed pass will only get the call in emergencies.

With Big Bill Edwards and Dario Domizi as ends, Canfield thinks he has at last solved his most serious line problem.

RUTH AND LANDIS FIGHT WITH STAKE A COOL MILLION

GREAT BAMBINO IS Spencerville Is Eager To Beat Lima DARING JUDGE TO UPHOLD RULE SPENDING BIG SUM TO MOBOLIZE A WINNING TEAM

(By ROY GROVE)

NEW YORK. — The biggest story in organized baseball since the appointment of Judge Landis as high commissioner is all at to pop.

It will answer this question: Who is the bigger man, Judge Landis or Babe Ruth?

To the writer it looks like Ruth!

After all, Landis is only a personality put forward to appease a public roused to wrath by the selling out of the White Sox in the world series two years ago. He's costing the moguls $42,500 a year.

Ruth is the champion crowd-puller of all time. More than that, the king of swat is not to be denied. Every fan with seeing eyes figured out during the world series that Ruth, not Miller Huggins, was managing the Yankees. In fact, there's every reason to believe that Huggins will surrender the managerial reins to Ruth officially before spring.

—for Huggins can truthfully lay the loss of the series to Babe Ruth's running himself as well as the rest of the team.

But that's another story.

LANDIS' THREAT
Landis threatened to suspend the Bambino a part or all of next season unless he stopped taking part in exhibition games, contrary to a baseball rule that prohibits players in a world series from barnstorming.

The Babe, getting $50,000 for his post-season work, defied the judge, claiming that Sisler and other major league stars who had participated in the world series they were playing winter ball on the coast without being molested. If they could get away with it, so could he, was the point the Bambino maintained.

And Landis has taken the case under advisement. He says he'll announce his decision later, and hands out a veiled threat that the Babe isn't going to get away with anything.

BABE SHOULD WORRY
Suspension of the swat king next season will have far-flung results. It won't hurt the Babe. He's getting $50,000 for his series of exhibition games this fall, more than twice what he would make in a regular playing season. He could well afford to defy Landis, and sit in the grand stand twiddling his thumbs all of next season, as far as the financial side of the affair goes.

But outsting of Ruth by Landis would go much farther than that. Without the slugger in the lineup the New York Yankees would cease to be the drawing card that they were in 1921. Not only in New York but all around the American League circuit, and the box office receipts would slump off.

Baseball officials estimate that loss of Ruth to the Yankees would cost the American League a cool million dollars in gate receipts that would have been lost in a single season.

LANDIS' PROBLEM
Incidentally, should Landis decide to go thru with his threatened suspension, it would undoubtedly arouse the ire of the New York club officials, and probably that of other club owners around the circuit who would see the killing of the golden goose.

Under the circumstances, with half his baseball kingdom pulling against him, Landis' case might find the future going more difficult as well as unpleasant.

The present difficulty then is not so much the case of Judge Landis vs. Babe Ruth as it is the case of Judge Landis vs. the Yankee team, or in fact the entire American League.

ell, obtained by the Yankees last spring from the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league, may figure in the proposed trade.

WORK 'EM HARD
GRANVILLE—With but two more days left before the annual football game with Ohio University, Coach Livingston of Denison is sending his men thru the hardest sort of practice.

Stiff scrimmages was on the program for today and tomorrow, while only a light workout will be given the varsity Friday. Every preparation is being made for what is expected to be the hardest game on Denison's schedule.

Charges of foul and unsportsmanlike conduct are flowing around following the University of Minnesota-Northwestern game.

48 Golfers Remain In Ohio Meet

TOLEDO — Forty-eight players teed off in the closing half of the Ohio open golf tourney at the Country club at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

The sixteen leading golfers, as a result of yesterday's scores, have been paired by the officials, while the others will also have different partners.

The high wind which played havoc with the play yesterday continued today and it is doubtful if the winner of the Ohio open title, which is to be decided today, will be under 300 for the 72 holes.

CHAMPIONS ARE FEW
Emmet French, of Youngstown, captain of the American team which invaded England this summer and George Alves, Shaker Country Club Cleveland, were low on the first thirty-six holes with 154 each.

They were closely followed by Alex Cunningham, Losantville Country Club, Cincinnati and J. E. Rodgers of Dayton, who turned in scores of 157. George Sargent, Columbus, was fifth with a 158 and Charlie Lorms, Inverness, was sixth with a score of 159.

There were 54 pros, assistants and amateurs present yesterday but several did not compete in the afternoon play and have no chance for the title or prizes.

SPENDING BIG SUM TO MOBOLIZE A WINNING TEAM

SPENCERVILLE is all 'het' up. They are determined to win the county champions from Bernie Halloran's Independents here Sunday afternoon, are going the limit to put a winning team on the field.

Already the inhabitants of the neighboring village have subscribed a fund of over $700 for recruiting new players. I Berry, their pitcher secured from the Lima team, left Lima night for the east.

It is understood he was given $2,000 before he left by Spencerville management, and told to hire as many big league stars as he could for Sunday's game.

COCHRAN SAYS TEAM IS BOUND TO WIN

Paul Cochran, one of the booster for the team, issued a warning Wednesday morning:

"Tell the fans in Lima not to be too sure about winning county championship game Sunday. We are going to have one of the strongest teams that ever played baseball in Lima. We are going the limit to win, and WE ARE GOING TO DO IT."

Bernie Halloran is aware of the attitude of our neighbors and these days is busy getting in touch with new players. He nounced Tuesday night that he has secured Billy Southworth play center field.

This season Southworth played with the Brooklyn Nation and the two previous years was with the Pittsburgh Pirates. 1919 and 1920 he led the National League in batting and last season was third from the top. He was traded to Brooklyn winter for Maranville.

Bowlers to Meet

All rules and plans for the tourney will be discussed. It starts Wednesday night, October 26.

Yankees After Harry Hooper; Trade On Foot

NEW YORK—Efforts to obtain Harry Hooper, former star outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, now with the Chicago Sox, are being made by the New York Yankees, it was learned today.

K. Gleason, manager of the Chicago team, was in conference with the Yankee owners and Manager Miller Huggins last night. It is understood Gleason would trade Hooper for some right-handed pitchers and may be an infielder or two.

The deal may be consummated today. Hooper leaves for his home in Cincinnati, Johnny Mitch ell, obtained by the Yankees last spring from the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league, may figure in the proposed trade.

BALLOT TO DECIDE OFFICERS' FATE
North Dakota Governor May Be Ousted by Vote.
SPECIAL ELECTION OCT. 28
Recall Being Employed by Forces Which Fought K.

BISMARCK, N. D.—(By N. E. A. Service)—Within two weeks the 225,000 voters of North Dakota will decide whether to recall the governor and chief members of his administration.
This is the first time a state has employed the recall against a governor.
The election results from the filing of more than 74,000 petitions. It will be held Friday, October 28. Curiously, the recall is being employed by the forces which fought its adoption, and is being used against the forces which put the recall, initiative and referendum amendments into the constitution.
It is a continuation of the warfare between the Nonpartisan League farmer-labor organization and its opponents.

OFFICIALS ATTACKED
The forces behind the recall election want Governor Lynn J. Frazier, now serving his third two-year term; Attorney General William Lemke and Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor John N. Hagau turned out of office.
These are the "big three" of the state administration for they compose the industrial commission charged with the management of the state-owned, state-operated industries which the Nonpartisan League champions.

The Independent candidates are R. A. Nestos, for governor; Steinhorn Johnson, for attorney general, and Joseph A. Kitchen, for commissioner of agriculture and labor.
With the recall the forces opposed to the administration also seek to initiate constitutional amendments and laws to put into effect the platform of the so-called Independent organization.

The Independents embrace both Republicans and Democrats who are opposed to the Nonpartisan League, which has captured the machinery of the Republican party, and whose officials were nominated in a general Republican primary and elected on a Republican ticket.
INDEPENDENTS' CHARGES
The Independents charge that a group of Nonpartisan League leaders have used the league to build a great political machine, diverted public funds from the Bank of North Dakota into league-controlled banks to be loaned to league corporations controlled by leaders of the league; have wasted great sums of money in enlarged payrolls and benefits for political favorites; have driven money from the state by constant attacks on financial interests.

The league answers that the industrial program has not had a trial; has been blocked and fought at every turn by financial interests; is essentially sound and deserves a fair trial at the hands of the voters; denies its officials have been corrupt or inefficient; points to accomplishments in grain grading laws; and claims the Bank of North Dakota by competing with private bankers has lowered interest rates and itself has made large profits.

Fought over time and again at primary elections, regular elections, and special elections on laws, the same issues are again before the voters in recall election. It was necessary that 30 per cent sign petitions to obtain a recall. About 33 per cent signed.
LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM
In addition to turning out the "big three" of the administration, the Independents seek to enact by popular vote a constitutional amendment limiting the indebtedness for industrial purpose to $7,500,000 instead of $17,000,000.

They propose to wind up the Home Builders' Association, which they allege has proved extravagant and useless to the poor man who desires a home; to provide for $2,500,000 of bonds to finish the terminal mill and elevator; to liquidate the Bank of North Dakota; and to provide a Rural Credits Department patterned after the South Dakota law.

With the election at hand the Bank of North Dakota has announced the sale of about $4,000,000 of bonds, which it says solves the condition in which the bank found itself and provides money to permit it to resume farm loans and insure that the mill and elevator work can continue.

In the last election the majority of Governor Frazier was about 6000 votes. The close division and the bitterness in state politics insures a fight to the finish at the polls, with opinion as to the winner usually dictated by prejudice.

MOTHER OF TEN IS CALLED FROM LIFE
Mrs. Malinda Ann Bowyer, 62, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Thompson, 624 W. Vine-st, Tuesday, after an illness of a year from paralysis and complications. She was born in Anglia, Mo.

Surviving, besides the daughter at whose home she died, are five sons and four daughters. Children are Bert Bowyer, Lafayette; Dewey Bowyer, Harold; Henry Bowyer, Jacksonville, Fla.; Cleith Bowyer, Washington, D. C.; Edgar Bowyer, Toledo; Mrs. C. B. Ring, South Warsaw; Mrs. William McCormick, Beaverdam; Mrs. J. L. Barnes, Colunabus; Miss Catherine Bowyer, residing at her sister's home.
Funeral services will be held at Cherry Grove church at a time not yet set. The Rev. G. R. Mall, Lima, will officiate.

CONTRACTORS RUSH WORK FOR HALLOWEEN LIGHTS
Mayor F. A. Burkhardt Tuesday signed the city's $135,000 municipal boulevard light notes, purchased by Stacy & Braun, Toledo brokers and the amount involved has been turned over to the city.
Additional workmen have been placed on the job by the city, in an effort to have the system ready for service by Halloween night. It is the mayor's plan to have the new star illuminated for the first time on that occasion.

SHERIFF INJURED

SHORT SHAVINGS

William Schuler, feed salesman, E. High-st., stopped his car to pick up an apple in an orchard near Cridersville.

Just as he in the old-time comic pictures, a rain battered him from behind and Bill flew some ten feet.

Sam Weinfeld says he has learned something about an automobile every day. "Yesterday," he says, "I learned it doesn't do a car a bit of good to sidleswipe a stepping block with it."

"Butch" Lawler mumpire at Mc.

physic hall park, coming downtown the other day on a frosty morning, found he only had one glove in his over-coat pocket.

One being little good without the other, he threw it away. Later he found its mate in another pocket.

Fred H. Fisher, realtor, was annoyed by a strange dog which kept upsetting things inside his garage. He started to track the dog to its home.

Fred followed what he thought was the canine's tracks. When they doubled back to his garage he learned he was following the prints left by the tread of his automobile tire.

Postmaster E. E. Truesdale, of Delphos, in Lima, Monday, told friends that he took his wife and one of his women acquaintances fishing this fall at the 'Anglaise' river.

"The women members of the party wondered how they would get the fish, it any, off the hook," Ed said. "One of them took along a kitchen fork, stating that she would hold the fish on the fork while she removed the hook."

Eddie Adler reports one of his neighbors is regarded with grave suspicion. "They fear he is losing his mind," his landlord talked of reducing the rent and he said:

"Don't do it. I'm not paying a bit too much."

Electric wheel chairs are now provided at Palm Beach.
